Of airport dispute

WCRC tags appeal very 'unfortunate'

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

The managing director of the Wayne County Road Commission (WCRC) feels "it's an unfortunate happening" that Romulus has decided to continue the fight with the county road agency over the expansion of Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

"Had the Romulus City Council been in full knowledge of the facts surrounding the airport and its operation, it wouldn't have appealed the judge's decision allowing construction on a new runway," said Thomas P. O'Rourke, managing director of the WCRC.

In an exclusive interview with The Romulus Roman, O'Rourke said his major concern in the litigation is the rising cost to the taxpayers.

"The WCRC spent $250,000 defending itself in Federal District Court on the issue of the environmental impact statement on a new runway," O'Rourke added. "Who's picking up the city's tab?"

The costs have to skyrocket."

Bills sent to the city for the initial phase of the battle over a new 12,000-foot runway in a general northeast to southwest direction at the airport came to $57,000.

The city had appropriated $15,000 and had it matched with $15,000 from the Romulus Board of Education to fight the district court battle. Apparently, the two agencies will have to come up with more funds to meet the costs incurred by attorney Jerrold Fadern in their behalf.

An appeal of U.S. District Judge Cornelia J. Kennedy's decision in favor of the WCRC-submitted environmental impact statement is expected to cost the two governmental bodies in Romulus a total of between $10,000 and $13,000, according to Fadern.

O'Rourke would not speculate on the WCRC's cost to defend itself in the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati.

However, he said the WCRC will be trying to get its side of the airport story before the people of Romulus.

"We're hoping that public sentiment will swing toward our point of view when the facts concerning the case come up," he added.

The road agency chief already has met with Mayor James C. Stewart and Economic Coordinator Hyle J. Carmichael in a "getting to know you" session.

O'Rourke said he has "an excellent opinion" of Stewart as a "decent, honest man who we can talk to."

Although the mayor has indicated that he will be initiating discussion with O'Rourke and the WCRC for repayment of some $8.5 million in damages, claimed by the city against the airport, O'Rourke said the agency will examine the claim thoroughly before making any promises to the city.

Added Charles Van Deusen, assistant managing director of the WCRC: "We're perfectly willing to discuss the damage claim with the city. The lines of communication never have been closed on our part."

Mitchell Zolik, the deputy managing director of the road agency, however said, that Romulus' claim will have to be balanced against the expected "good" the airport can do for the community.

"We realize there is talk of the loss of revenues and water and sewer systems because of expansion," Zolik added. "But you have to consider the improvement the airport brings to the community in the area of economic development."

"If we have caused some damage to areas of the city, you also have to remember that we also have caused an increase in value of the city because of the facility."

O'Rourke said: "We just want to be good neighbors, but the atmosphere in the city toward us has hindered that."

"Maybe with this change in administrations, we'll see a change in the attitude."

Hydrant care

Romulus Fire Fighters Bob Milatz (left) and Oscar Hamilton were busy clearing out a hydrant following their battle with a blaze in the city. The fire fighters are careful to pump out residue water from the hydrants to avoid freezing conditions during the winter which could result in a stoppage of flow at a fire scene. A freezing hydrant in the Van Buren Township Lemontree Apartment Complex caused a delay in getting water on a fire of a 34-unit apartment building. The $800,000 building was destroyed, however, township officials blame a 40-minute delay in getting a fire call rather than the frozen hydrant as the reason the fire got out of control. — Photo by The Romulus Roman Chief Photographer Lothar Konietzko.

500 anticipated at inaugural ball

Plans are being made to treat more than 500 residents anticipated for the Mayor James C. Stewart Inaugural Ball to a night of fine dining and entertainment Jan. 31.

Scheduled to be held from 5:30 p.m.-1 a.m. at the Hilton Inn at 31500 Wickham Road, Romulus, the ball will feature cocktails, dinner and dancing into the morning at a cost of $25 per couple.

Tickets are available through the mayor's office at the Romulus City Hall. Reservations can be phoned into the city hall by calling 941-0666.

"While we hope to make money to pay off previous campaign debts and the cost of the ball itself, we look upon the event as a means of introducing to the residents of Romulus their mayor, James C. Stewart," said a spokesperson for the ball committee.

Trustees of the committee are Romulus resident Dolores Ristow and the city's economic developer and former mayor, Hyle J. Carmichael.

Said the spokesperson: "One of the goals is to enlighten the citizens of Romulus as to what Mayor Stewart has going for them and their city."

"What we really are celebrating is the vision of a new and alive Romulus, bustling with educational and cultural activities, shops, industrial and commercial development, and most of all, residential harmony along with progress."

In announcing the ball, Stewart said "One of the heights of my campaign has been the support of such loyal friends as the people of Romulus."

"Without their help I could not have operated as successfully, or as happily as I have.

"I am most grateful to them for their friendship and for their support during the past campaign and for their continued support throughout the months to come."

"The inaugural ball will be an excellent opportunity to thank the people personally and meet many that I have yet to meet."

The committee spokesperson reports that response to the inaugural ball concept has been overwhelming, and that at least 500 residents are expected to attend.

Included in the schedule of events Jan. 31 are a cocktail hour from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m., dinner from 6:30 to 8 p.m. and dancing from 8:30 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Support the Scouts

Romulus Mayor James C. Stewart was among the first of area citizens who purchased sustaining memberships in the enrollments in the Boy Scouts of America. Selling the memberships are Thomas Robinson, district executive, (from left) and Leo M. Kalota, sustaining membership enrollment chairman. Funds raised through the drive will back Boy Scout programs in Romulus, Belleville, and the townships of Huron, Sumpter and Van Buren. Information on the drive can be obtained by calling Kalota at the Manufacturer's National Bank Branch office on Goddard at Shool roads in Romulus. — The Romulus Roman photo.

To city jobs

Stewart names 4 new workers

Personnel changes continue at Romulus City Hall.

Following the firing of as many as 14 administrators and workers who supported former Mayor Terry L. Troutt, Mayor James C. Stewart has begun hiring new personnel.

In addition to the personnel he hired to perform the economic developer-planner job, the city assessor's post, the City Council secretary position and the city attorney and consulting engineers position, Stewart has hired permanent personnel in the animal control, personnel, inventory control — purchasing, and building posts.

Filling the personnel department spot is Sandra Block, the former administrative secretary to City Clerk Leonard J. Folmar and a former secretary for personnel under the Hyle J. Carmichael administration.

Stewart has proposed a $1,112 raise in the salary from the $11,596 paid under the Troutt administration.

Handling the purchasing-inventory control functions, a job Stewart created by combining the duties of two administrators under the Troutt administration, will be Raymond Cantrell.

Cantrell is a former employee of the Romulus Department of Public Works who handled purchasing and inventory control functions while in the armed services.

John Prouse, a former animal control officer, was made animal control warden by Stewart. A new animal control officer has been hired to fill Prouse's position.

Heading up the Building Department will be Edward Fall, a private contractor and former superintendent of building for a major construction firm, according to Stewart.

Salaries to be paid the new department heads include $16,228 for the purchasing and inventory control officer, $18,228 for the director of protective inspections (building department) and $11,728 for the animal control warden.

The salary for the new purchasing and inventory control officer is a decrease in the salaries of the two personnel who handled the same duties in the past, the building department directorship salary is the same, and the animal control warden salary is up $208 as part of a cost of living increase given all non-union personnel.

For five hours

High winds, snow strand school bus

By JIMCARAVALLAH
Of The Enterprise-Roman Staff

The combination of high winds and high snows stranded 13 students from the Van Buren South Junior High School in a school bus for nearly five hours recently in Canton Township.

According to Evelyn Oltersdorf, of the Michigan School Bus Service which is administering the Van Buren busing program this year, the students were stranded on a point on Denton between Procter and Geddes roads in Canton Township by 30-inch snow drifts, recently.

Mrs. Oltersdorf said the driver of the vehicle radioed for help, but was left stranded when a rescue bus and a tow truck became stuck in drifts in the area.

The students were removed by the bus only after four scrapers from the Wayne County Road Commission cleared paths from the north and the south to the vehicle.

"While it was a major inconvenience to the students, we did everything we could to get to them and had to resort to the heavy equipment," she added. "It was a highly unusual situation."

The bus service spokesman said the vehicle had "plenty of fuel" to warm the students in the near zero temperatures and the 20-25 mile per hour winds.

She added that the driver was in constant contact with the bus operators.

A spokesman for the Wayne County Road Commission (WCRC) said no complaint had been lodged on the incident, but added that it was possible, because of the combination of winds, drifting snow and low salt supplies.

"We're approaching a crisis point," he said. "The road commission as of the storm has enough salt on hand for 1 1/2-passes over the 13,000-mile road network it must keep free of ice."

After he made the statement, the county suffered another storm where 1 inch of snow fell on the roads.

The 8-inch snowfall which precipitated the stuck bus incident, required four separate saltings by county crews to open the streets, according to the WCRC spokesman. Mrs. Oltersdorf said other than the one serious incident, there were no others last week in the school bus service for children in the district.

She added that it was the first incident of its kind in the past few years, indicating that buses didn't run during the massive 19-inch snowstorm which crippled transportation in southeastern Michigan in December 1974.

On voluntary basis

Fire fighters hone skills

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Tax payers almost always are aware of what they are being assessed for, but there are many times when they are oblivious to the services being provided them through the use of their tax dollars.

In the case of local fire units, there are 36 men who currently are devoting three hours of their Wednesday nights in order to further their knowledge of fire fighting techniques. The volunteer action, which encompasses a total of 22 weeks and 66 hours in actuality is just that — volunteer. The men are receiving no pay for their time.

Instigated by the fire fighters themselves, the interest in more education stresses their concern for up-to-date procedures in handling fires. With the increase in multiple dwellings and trailer courts, they feel the additional instruction to be more necessary and important than ever.

Unlike established big city fire departments which are schooled and trained on a fulltime basis, the volunteer units have in the past relied on minimal training and monthly practice sessions.

But things have changed and

One of the most important lessons is 'Ventilating Practices...'

presently the three dozen men from both Van Buren fire stations, Belleville and Sumpter Township are enrolled in the special fire fighter's course.

Since October, representatives of the four units have been receiving instructions from Lt. Robert Matthies, a certified class A instructor for the Michigan State Fire Fighters Training Council. A member of the Ypsilanti Fire Department, he also is the city fire inspector.

Two years ago, Matthies conducted an 18-hour class in Belleville for which the city picked up the tab. Members later decided to apply for the 66-hour course which is funded by the state. They agreed, too, to invite their neighboring fire departments to join in.

By sharing the instruction and rotation of meetings at each fire hall, the men not only learn fire techniques, but what's available in each department, thereby becoming familiar with each others' equipment. Hence, when an assist is necessary, all departments will be compatible and can function as a single unit.

The 22-week session was inaugurated with an orientation night which covered a fire fighter's responsibilities as well as the meanings of Act No. 300 the Michigan Vehicle Code, and Act No. 207, the Fire Prevention Act. Among the literature distributed to the group was the 226-page reference book, "Fire Service Practices for Volunteer Fire Departments," prepared by the International Fire Service Training Association (IFSTA).

Review tests, which individuals and the instructor can use as a barometer of what's being absorbed, are given periodically.

Among the subjects covered by the seminar is "Forcible Entry Practices." Since combustible materials subjected to adequate heat in the presence of oxygen cause fires which frequently are inaccessible, a forcible means must be used to reach them.

Various types of locked doors (swinging, revolving, overhead and sliding) as well as windows (double-hung or check rail, hinged or casement, factory or projected and awning or jalousie) may be among the problems encountered by fire fighters when attempting to enter a burning building.

Various roof types, floor construction, exterior and interior walls and partitions, too, can all present different situations for forcible entry.

The use of the proper tools — be it axe, hatchet, crowbar, wirecutter or whatever — comes into play frequently making it imperative to choose the right implement for the situation.

"Fire Service Rope Practices" covers the basic knots and hitches most commonly used in the fire service. Men learn the elements of a knot, the timber hitch, the becket bend or sheet bend, the bowline knot and the clove hitch. The use of hoisting tools and equipment also is part of the unit.

In the lesson on "Fire Service Ladder Practices" the handling of ladders along with spacing and climbing techniques are stressed. Safety measures for climbing, removing extension and roof ladders from pumps and carrying a roof ladder are involved.

One of the most important lessons, Matthies said, is the 2-night session on "Ventilating Practices." Venting is the planned and systematic release and removal of heated air, smoke and gases from a structure and the replacement of these products of combustion with a supply of cooler air.

Being mid-way in the course, the skills learned thus far were put to actual use Saturday. If you happened to be in the Judd-Martinsville Road vicinity that day and saw flames licking at the wintery skies, you may have been witness to the four units in action during a mock burning.

In destroying the old building (requests, permits, etc. all validated by the authorities), the men had the opportunity to see the IFSTA manual "come to life."

Local business people, on hearing of the day-long battle with the flames as well as the elements, offered to supply food for the men. Jim Visigardi of Jim's Market donated chili; Al Rizzo of Foodville gave hot dog buns and Dick Burwell of Dunkin' Donuts furnished coffee and donuts throughout the maneuvers. Mrs. Gerald Warsop and Mrs. Robert Tontalo serviced the "canteen" set up in the Warsop camper. Belleville Councilman Tontalo, the city fire commissioner, is among those taking an active part in the seminar.

A special part of future classes will be Detroit Edison's presentation, "Electrical Safety," tonight, with Harold Poike, senior safety officer for the City of Detroit, as speaker. Wives and guests are being invited to the program.

Another highlight will be sponsored by Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. on Feb. 7, with representatives of the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) instructing on rural type fire fighting. This will be a special unit which is certified by the Michigan Safety Council.

Another chapter in the IFSTA book is "Fire Service Rescue and Protective Breathing Practices." The purpose of the lesson is to teach those techniques of rescue operations that are necessary to remove human beings from situations which prohibit their unassisted escape.

Certified instructors from Ann Arbor and the Emergency Medical Service will teach "extrication" — how to safely remove people from wrecked cars, buses, trains, planes and other vehicles — in a slide presentation.

First aid classes by qualified instructors are among other lessons that will be taught.

To finalize the course, two house burning sessions will be held when each unit in the manual is implemented.

The last night of classes calls for final exams with graduation ceremonies set for Mar. 26. Representatives of the Michigan Firefighters Training Council in Lansing will be on hand to distribute the certificates at a dinner-dance ceremony in the Father Folta Building.

Stewart praises city road crews

While Wayne County may be having its difficulties in removing the snow from roads due to a salt shortage, Romulus' mayor is pleased with his work forces' efforts.

Mayor James C. Stewart said he is pleased with the Romulus Department of Public Works (DPW) which is removing snow from the road "as well as any group in the county" and is receiving praise from citizens for the efforts.

"During the most recent heavy snowfalls, the crews had the streets cleaned by the morning — in plenty of time for people to get to work," Stewart said. "I think it's better than it ever had been in the past."

Stewart singled out DPW Director

David Paul for special praise, saying: "I knew Dave could do a good job, if given a chance."

Stewart added that the Romulus Community School District also was pleased with the work, because school buses were able to run after the 8-inch snowfall which snarled traffic in other communities.

During the snowfall, the Van Buren School District reported one bus getting stuck in a snowbank and staying there for 4½-hours while crews worked to free it.

After two other buses and a tow truck were stuck trying to free the vehicle, four graders of the Wayne County Road Commission were called to the scene to free the vehicle.

U.S. must remain strong

President Ford wove a theme through his State of the Union message to Congress which could make this country stand taller than ever before if the majority of American people take heed. He stressed that it was time for us all to stop kicking our country around and to concentrate instead on the positive achievements of the United States.

While the headlines focused on the President's specific domestic and foreign policy proposals, the philosophic heart of his speech was contained in this quote Ford attributed to the late President Eisenhower:

"America is not good because it is great. America is great because it is good."

Since the Vietnam War and Watergate it has become fashionable in some circles to picture the United States — its government, its economic system and its social values — as corrupt, greedy and crude.

That is the negative, abject attitude the President wants all right thinking Americans to put behind them. While this country is not perfect, it has climbed higher and tried harder to provide an abundant life of freedom for its people than any other. Ford put it this way:

"We have not remade paradise on earth. We know perfection will not be found here. But think for a minute how far we have come in 200 years."

In the world at large there exists an obvious connection between the constant denigration of the United States and the growing aggressiveness of the Communist Bloc Nations and some of the third world countries still so anxious to get our money and food.

Tim Pot dictators in Africa and Latin America and propaganda organs of the world's last and most heartless imperial power — the Soviet Union — take up the theme of America's alleged wickedness. What nerve they have. We are criticized for faults magnified a thousand times in the homelands of the accusers.

Daniel P. Moynihan, American ambassador to the United Nations, has taken to answering these slanders and throwing them back in the faces of the accusers with interest. His bluntness already seems to have rocked some third world countries.

Here is hoping he keeps it up, and that the Ford administration supports him fully whether the subject is Agola, the Middle East or some other world trouble spot.

Panax Newspapers believe with President Ford that the greatest contribution the United States can make to world stability is to remain strong and confident.

Ford was right when he characterized the United States as the embodiment of mankind's aspirations for liberty, well being and progress. The President drew warm applause from the senators and representatives seated before him when he declared:

"I say it is time we quit downgrading ourselves as a nation. Of course it is our responsibility to learn the right lessons from past mistakes. It is our duty to see that they never happen again. But our greatest duty is to look at the future...."

On our 200th birthday, a revival of the up beat Yankee Doodle spirit would cheer up most of the peoples of the world.

As they see it

They're thankful

To the editor: The handicapped employees of League-Goodwill want to express their thanks and appreciation to the thousands of people who cooperated in the recent Good Turn Clothing Drive, conducted by the Detroit Area Council, Boy Scouts of America.

On Dec. 6, Scouts and leaders from nearly 400 troops collected filled bags of clothing from 250,000 homes in the tri-county area. This huge quantity of material will provide steady employment this winter for 200 handicapped workers at out Goodwill division, and will make a varied selection of good usable items available to the public through the Goodwill retail stores at moderate prices.

Through your publication, we would like to say thank you, not only to the Scouts and their leaders, but to the business firms and their drivers who supplied the necessary trucking equipment needed to collect this material; the newspapers, radio and television stations who publicized the event; young people who assisted with unloading the clothing at the warehouse; and, of course, the householders who filled the bags with wearable clothing discards.

Through the efforts of each and every one of you, our handicapped workers were able to have a Merry Christmas and enjoy a Happy New Year.

'IN HONOR OF GRANDMA GRIFFIN ON HER 75th BIRTHDAY'

By Linda Lindermann

These special wishes
Are coming your way
And we, your bowling buddies
Would like to say

May this your 75th birthday
Be a very special one
Filled with joy and good cheer
And all kinds of fun.

May each day hold
Some kind of treasure
May you have happiness

May you have good health
As you travel life's lane
May God always guide you;
His child to remain.

But to all these wishes
We would like to add:
You're the greatest Grandma
Any league ever had.

So keep up that bowling spirit
Which we know so well
Just go on being you
Because we think you're swell.

To the editor: The Romulus Ladies Thursday Night Bowling League celebrated Mrs. Ceceila Griffin's 75th birthday last Thursday at the Romulus Recreation Center. Mrs. Griffin is better known as Grandma to all her bowling buddies.

We had a birthday cake and coffee and she wore a corsage of red, white and blue which was presented to her by The Wheel bowling team.

The centerpiece was presented by the president, E. Fischer, and a white cape was given to Grandma Griffin from the whole league. It was a surprise for her.

Linda Lindermann composed the above poem for Grandma Griffin.

THE ER: It's always ready

By RUSSELL J. TUTTLE
Director of Community Relations
Peoples Community Hospital Authority

Pulses quickened, and the adrenalin began to flow a little faster as the mournful, yet urgent sound of the rescue service emergency vehicle was heard interrupting the silence of a cold winter night.

As the vehicle prepared to make the turn into Annapolis Hospital, the oscillator was turned off, and only the flashing red light, which drew curious traces on the fresh snow, could be seen when the vehicle stopped at the entrance to the Emergency Room (ER).

The rescue service crew had radioed ahead to alert the Annapolis ER that they were on their way with the victim of an automobile accident.

An air-bag splint had been applied to the victim's left leg — a leg which had been fractured in the accident.

At the time — it was 8:30 p.m. — There were nine people in the ER waiting to be treated for various conditions of distress.

But now, they would have to wait. The patient being rolled in on the litter was clearly the number one concern of the physician and nurses in the ER.

The physician on duty that night, A.S. Maaraba, M.D., said: "It is imperative that people in the community understand that patients are not necessarily seen on a first-come, first-serve basis.

"We are required, professionally and ethically, to evaluate people as they come into the ER and attend first to those people who are in serious pain or are in life threatening situations."

Dr. Maaraba is a member of a Professional Corporation (PC) which is under contract to operate the Annapolis ER. This is a common arrangement in hospitals throughout the country. The Annapolis PC has six medical doctors, and is under the direction of Gust Petropoulos, M.D.

The members of the PC are licensed physicians who restrict their practice of medicine to the very delicate art of emergency medicine. There are no interns or students associated with the PC.

"Perhaps only 25 percent of our patients are genuine emergencies," Dr. Maaraba said. "The remainder come to us because they do not have a family physician or possibly because we are handy to their places of residence, or they can't reach the family doctor."

The ER physician renders primary care. If, in his judgement, hospitalization is indicated, he will consult with the family physician or a staff doctor who will write the admission order.

The Annapolis ER has five stations (examination — treatment areas) and is equipped to handle any emergency from cardiac arrest to simple lacerations.

"We have treated gunshot victims, drug overdoses, inebriates, people who have been poisoned — yes, even once when nature made her demands known, we assisted in the delivery of a baby," he said.

He pointed out that, especially today, ER physicians order more x-rays and laboratory work than they once did.

ER charges are billed in two components: hospital service charge including laboratory charges, and physician service charge. Individual health insurance policies generally pay a substantial portion of the total charges.

Close to 50,000 people each year make use of the Annapolis ER, averaging around 125 per day in this 24-hour, 7-day-a-week service.

A practitioner in emergency medicine — and this would include nurses, aides, orderlies and desk personnel — must be one who remains composed under extreme tension, and one who is totally responsive to the needs of the patient.

The doctor said that working in emergency medicine is like walking on a psychological tightrope.

When a patient presents himself in the ER, his primary concern is himself and his problem — a position which is perfectly understandable.

But Dr. Maaraba emphasized again: "We do not ignore anyone. We do, however, often give up our lunch or dinner or coffee break to do those things necessary to restore one to good health. And our staff does these things willingly."

As I sat in the small anteroom off the ER where I had been talking with the doctor — he had left to respond to the accident victim — I looked around and saw three half-filled cups of coffee, and medical journal, two nursing magazines and a candy bar which had been unwrapped but not yet eaten.

And by listening to the activity in the treatment area — demanding, intense, but yet controlled — I knew that it would be a long time before anyone on staff this night would enjoy their coffee.

Construction bids for I-275 taken

State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus) has reported that the State Highway Commission is taking bids for construction of 2.7 miles of I-275, including a parallel bicycle path, in Romulus.

The I-275 project will extend from south of Pennsylvania Road to the C & O Railroad in Romulus. The estimate cost is $2,890,000. Work is scheduled to be completed by next December.

For the safety and convenience of bicyclists, the project will include a parallel 2.6 mile 8-foot-wide bicycle path and five timber bridges for the bike route.

The bicycle path, and others beside Michigan freeways, were made possible by the enactment of a bill, Act 212, P.A. 1974, introduced by Mahalak.

Under the former law, bicycles were banned from limited access highways, the same as other forms of non-motorized vehicles, farm tractors and pedestrians. The Department of State Highways and Transportation at that time was unable to proceed with its plans for a series of bicycle paths beside the freeways until passage of the Mahalak bill.

The bike path at Romulus is one of many already built or planned for the state's freeway system.

"I am pleased that the highway commission is taking bids to advance the construction of I-275," Mahalak said. "It will be an important part of the statewide and local highway system. But I am particularly happy that it also will include the parallel bicycle path. It will be designated for the exclusive use of bicyclists, be relatively safe and not interfere with freeway traffic. I am sure it will be widely used by local bicyclists."

Men's Club dance salutes Bicentennial year

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

The traditional post-holiday Men's Club dance at St. Anthony's parish Jan. 17 was a flag-waving event from start to finish and ranged from the gigantic to the miniature.

The "Goliath" looming at the crowd was the 13 by 24 foot Betsy Ross flag which fully covered the back of the spotlighted stage. Made especially for the dance and as a Bicentennial project by club members and their wives, the banner was made entirely of satin provided by the Exhibit and Display Co. of Wayne.

In contrast, the "Lilliputians" at the party were the mini-flags which encircled fat red candles in tall hurricane lamps on the red, white and blue garbed tables.

Once again, the walls of the Father Folta Building were draped to create a ballroom effect and large round discs with the Bicentennial emblem were suspended from the rafters to form a dropped ceiling.

The Men's Club members and their guests, 170 in all, entered a floodlighted building which bore the greeting "St. Anthony's Salutes America's Bicentennial" on its facade. A cocktail hour, buffet dinner and dancing to the music of "The Images" rounded out the gala evening which was chaired by Jack Burcroff and Jerome Fay.

Friends fete former Belvillite

Mrs. Richard McGuire (the former Cheryl Carr) was back in Belleville recently for a cradle shower in her honor. Coming in from Aurora, Ill., she was feted by some 19 guests who gathered at the home of the soon-to-be maternal grandparents, Roland and Helen Gentle of Melody Lane.

Sharing the hostess detail, Linda Cheek and Gayle Carr served petit fours and sherbet punch to Belleville friends, Nancy Orr, Marilyn Garber, Cindy Gentle, Patty McGuire, Harriet Carothers, Roseann Mills, Cindy Hoeft and Lillian Zimmer.

Out of towners arriving for the Jan. 17 party were Karen Wilson of Garden City; Linda Gentle of Detroit; Burma Shelton of Jackson; Mary Schywstell and daughters, Kathy and Linda, of Westland; Elfrieda Vollberg of Ann Arbor and Sharon Dubiskey and Joy Kirkpatrick of Plymouth.

Also awaiting the late March arrival of the new heir are Clifton and Marge McGuire of Belleville, the paternal grandparents-to-be.

"Squares" flirt with frostbite

Had you been close enough to witness the recent escapades of the Crackpot Squares (a local square dance club) you wouldn't have believed your eyes anyway. So, fortunately for passersby, the locale for the winter whim was "out of sight."

Have you ever seen a snowbunny doing western style square dancing? In the snow? AT 4 degrees above zero?

Well, the Crackpots (and we use the term lightly) and some of their guests braved the elements the night of Jan. 17 and earned their Snowbunny Badges when eight squares took to the yard of South Junior High School to do-si-do and honor their partner.

Guests taking part in the fun and gutsy performance were the Dixboro Fun Shop Squares, No. 3 Squares of Wyandotte, Jimmy Jumpers of Southgate, Heel Stompers of Wayne and the Shawnee Squares of Tecumseh. While the latter two clubs retrieved their banners, The Li'l Devils of Garden City quietly stole the host club's banner.

After dancing the evening away the group drove to Lakewood Shopping Center and invaded the new Landmark Restaurant. Not content to just eat, they asked permission of the management and then took to the floor with 39 couples squaring up for a few more calls. After thoroughly bewildering the waitresses, the entourage headed for home at 1:30 a.m.

The local club's next special dance will be the "Ma 'n Pa Dance" on Feb. 21 with rounds at 7:30 p.m. and squares an hour later. The distaff side will be wearing long dresses and bonnets while their fellas garb themselves in bib overalls. Dress for guests is optional but they might like to get in the spirit of days-gone-by and dig up a costume.

The country store, which is part of the festivities, will be open with baked goods, crafts, a huge, round cheese and fat dill pickles among the goodies being planned for sale.

They're surprised on 25th

The Walter Greens of 13882 Haggerty Rd., Belleville, marked 25 years of togetherness recently when their sons, Walter Jr. and Robert, and granddaughter, Lisa Marie, hosted a surprise party in their honor.

Held at the Paramount Hall in Wayne, a buffet supper and socializing were enjoyed by some 200 guests. Assisting with the food and decorations were Pat Bryant and Ann Street of Ypsilanti; Florence Slabik of Detroit; Greg Winn of Township; Pat Cullin, Marilyn Montgomery, Jan Wyman, and their respective husbands, and Alice Porzondek.

Among the many gifts received by the Greens was a silver dollar money tree from Mrs. Green's fellow Bicentennial committee members of Van Buren Township; Pat Cullin, Marilyn Montgomery, Jan Wyman, and their respective husbands, and Alice Porzondek.

Letters and wires of congratulations arrived from President Gerald R. Ford, Governor William Milliken, Senator William Faust, Congressman William Ford and Representative Gary Owens.

Married in Pontiac in 1950, the Greens have been residents of this community for the past 14 years. He is retired from General Motors Division at Willow Run and she from the manager's post at Cunningham's in Arborland.

'The Players' currently in rehearsal for 'Doctor in the House', a comedy

The date is set for the Belleville area's little theatre group's winter production, "Doctor in the House", adapted by Ted Willis from a novel by Richard Gordon.

The 3-act English comedy, which has nine laughable characters from a medical school, is set for Feb. 27 and 28 at the Belleville High School auditorium.

Bob Burris, the director, has cast a number of roles with several members new to the group since last autumn included. Jean Daniels, the assistant director, also will have her hands full as she coaches these newcomers, most of whom were before the footlights for the first time in last fall's children's play.

A short meeting held minutes before the first rehearsal Jan. 13 concluded with kudos for Sharon Matthews, the play's producer, who managed to discover the "Real Sam Adado" and snag him into volunteering to design the set for the play.

Adado, who spends his days directing the "Second Day Plant Zoo" in Belleville, will be juggling his free time and professional talents between The Players and a New York play assignment.

Assistant producer Mona Salisbury has finalized arrangements for use of the Belleville High "theatre" for the 2-night performances as well as time for the necessary rehearsals.

Meanwhile, the greasepaint and set building chores have been taken on by the "whistle while you work" crew of members who can squeeze in volunteer time from their own busy personal schedules.

The entire group is hammering the winter season's offering into shape for The Players biggest effort thus far and the diagnosis at present is excellent for "Doctor in the House."

Poster design "by Russell"

The talents of Tom Russell, Belleville High School senior, have been put to use for the Van Buren Bicentennial Committee's pending program, "Fashions of the Past." An art student and winner of the Scholastic Arts Award for the Southeastern Region of Michigan, Tom designed the official poster for the show which will be reproduced for the cover of the programs. The show, which is slated for 8 p.m. Jan. 30 at the Van Buren Township Hall, has had promotional assistance from a group of Quirk School first graders as well. The original poster was done in color but reproduced in black and white. Thinking it would be an interesting project for the school children, committee members contacted Donna Durigon, Marilyn Gates, Judy Belvin and Ann Smith, first grade teachers at Quirk, and they consented to have classes spend their extra time coloring the posters. So when you're in local business establishments, look around — you might enjoy seeing the artistry of a high school senior turned into a massive "coloring book."

Girl Scouts to start cookie sales Feb. 6

A former Copenhagen, Denmark Girl Scout has been named chairman of the 1976 Girl Scout cookie sale for the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council. Mrs. Gordon W. (Jean) Spence of Ann Arbor will lead the sale of cookies, crackers and tea that last year netted $380,000 in gross sales, and $126,000 in profits for the Council's operations, community service and troop camping activities.

This year 305 junior, cadette and senior troops, including over 6,200 girls age 10 through 17, will be selling cookies throughout Washtenaw, Livingston and western Wayne counties.

A native American, Mrs. Spence grew up in Denmark where her father was employed. She has been active in Girl Scouting in this country since 1967 when she became an assistant leader for a Brownie troop. She has also been a junior troop leader and cadette troop leader. For two years, 1973 and 1974, she served as president of The Ann Arbor Firefighters Ladies Auxiliary, Local 1733.

Mrs. Spence was employed as a professional sales representative for Minnesota Woolen Company from 1960 to 1970.

Girl Scouts in the area will be taking orders from Feb. 6 to 15 with delivery dates for distribution points set for Mar. 23 to April 6.

Quotes worth quoting...

David Grayson said it.

They'll tour for MYI

Students from some 50 schools in the Great Lakes area will be chosen annually to carry the message of friendship and form a chorus and symphonic band for Musical Youth International (MYI), a chartered People to People Youth Chapter. Those selected from Belleville High School are (front row from left) Gerry Brady and Stan King and (back row, same order) Scott DuBois, John Teasdale and Dave Thompson. One hundred outstanding high school students are chosen annually to carry the message of friendship and good will to a distant part of the world. The July, 1976 tour of the British Isles will combine, through music and family living, our Bicentennial message with the 1900th celebration of the earliest recorded settlement of Cardiff, Wales as well as selected cities and communities in England and Scotland.

Calendar's an 'original'

In keeping with the 200th birthday of their country, the fifth and sixth grade students at Quirk Elementary School have produced a Bicentennial calendar which has generated a lot of interest and enthusiasm. The calendar, which is selling for 50 cents, is the basis for a contest; the person and room selling the most to win prizes. For the special project, one picture was chosen for each month as well as for the front and back covers. After the calendars were printed many students helped put them together and staple them in assembly line fashion including (from left) Lisa Memering, Galen Kenyon and Scott Thompson.

And next...

Corinne Bozin, a former Miss Michigan-World and regional director of the Auston Professional Modeling School and Agency, offered an explanation of fashions on parade during the recent Belleville High Photography Club fashion show at the school. Proceeds from the show will be used to finance club activities.

The students in Belleville High School's photography club put on a fashion show recently to raise funds for club activities.

On display were men's fashions by Haywards Men's Wear of Van Buren Township and Ladies Fashions by Alberts clothing.

Held Jan. 15, the show was sponsored by Linda Ruhl, Martin Capo, Denise Patterson, Kim Orbin, Ron McKelvey, Don Clark, Ron Horne and David McNeil.

Entertainment was provided by the Belleville High School Jazz Band under the direction of Dennis A. Miller, conductor.

Playing in the band were Gerry Brady, Brenda Alspaugh, Terry Caves, Jim Pollard, Marty Thompson, Marty Whitmer, Terri Gamble, Diane Clayton, Mark Sienko, Larry Gefre, Bob Michell, Bob Cook, Kevin Patke, Scott Rice, Bob Bleming, Scott DuBois, Larry Spino and Larry Johnson.

Two student models, James Thompkins and Harold Dennis, who modeled clothes designed for himself, participated in the show.

High School student Ruth Ann Couperwhaite acted as coordinator of the program.

The students operating the show offered their thanks to Henry Koski, Roger Ferbuson, Sandra Baisch, Dale Zaborowski, Dave McNeil, Mark Greay and Cheryl Jennings for their cooperation.

The Campus Tuxedo Shop in Ann Arbor provided clothing for the Jazz Band members and several Belleville-area business persons donated prizes for the drawing, held during the show.

Meal marks 1st year

A potluck dinner and singing by the Midwestern Bells of Pontiac marked the celebration of the first anniversary of the Canton Baptist Temple, located at Belleville Road and the I-94 Expressway.

The Midwestern Bells sang at the 9:45 a.m. worship service Sunday, helping to mark the church's founding on Jan. 15, 1975 by The Rev. Fred Schindler.

The Rev. Schindler, a 1956 graduate of Belleville High School, attended the Midwestern Baptist College of Pontiac and the Clarksville (Tenn.) School of Theology.

He also founded another church in the area and served as its minister for some eight years. He has been president of the Bible Institute of Ypsilanti for four years.

Part of the observance Sunday was a special birthday offering, which will be used to purchase a second bus for the church.

'Band Boosters' promote interest in school music

"The Drum Beat," the newsletter prepared regularly by the Belleville Band Booster's Assoc., was sent out the first of the year to all parents of band students. It listed the coming events for the remainder of the school year as well as information on the most recent gathering.

At the December meeting the group voted into office the following: Marge Spino, president; Betty Fleming, vice-president; Mary Ann Bassett, secretary, and Arloa Jennings, treasurer.

The school system's band directors are Dennis Miller, Belleville High School; Tom Buffham, high school assistant; Frank Soloc, South Junior High School; Dave De Clark, North Junior High School; and Al Falatine and Margaret Wright, elementary schools.

The regular meeting of the association is the first Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. Previously the group only met in the high school band room but future sessions will be held at other schools as well. The "It's a Date" column in the Belleville Enterprise will carry the information.

The Band Boosters, with the help and financial support of interested families and friends, have provided refreshments after band concerts and given over $500. per year in scholarships and campership awards at all levels of band activity. During the past year they paid the cost of the salary for an assistant conductor of bands at the high school.

A contribution of $2 per band family, which is tax deductible, makes the aforementioned projects possible. Parents are reminded that 1976 checks are being accepted by Arloa Jennings at 2142 Harmon, Ypsilanti 48107. Or even better, the association would be happy to receive a check personally at the next meeting which is at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 2 in the high school. New members are always welcome.

Tours, classes planned by Romulus elders

Activities for the new year were outlined at the recent meeting of Romulus Senior Citizens Club No. 1. The second and fourth Wednesdays of the month have been set aside for shopping tours; ceramics classes will begin Feb. 5 and sewing sessions will be held on the second Thursday of each month, the latter two in the Romulus Recreation Building.

Any senior citizen in Romulus interested in learning to square dance is asked to call the club coordinator Joan Haubrich at 941-0666. If enough people care to take part the class will be held once each month.

A field trip, the first of the year, is set for Feb. 25 when the group will tour the new Hyatt-Regency Hotel in Dearborn and have lunch there. Details may be learned at any Tuesday meeting held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Romulus VFW Hall.

MUSICAL NOTES
by Doug Brown
The Electric Sitar was designed by guitarist Vincent Bell in the middle of 1966. Although the Indian sound is there, and the instrument adds a characteristic drone, it looks and is played like a guitar. The sitar itself is very complicated, but anyone who can play a guitar can play an electrical sitar. In fact, it is even tuned like a standard guitar. The electric sitar also solved the problem of trying to produce sitar sounds while on the road.
A large selection of student and professional guitars will be found at DOUG BROWN MUSIC, 9219 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus. Choose from such makers as Fender and Alvarez... Full line of amplifiers and PA systems and all the accessories to go with it. Rental plan available on all instruments. Phone 941-8484. Open daily from 10 to 8:30 p.m. and Sat. from 9:30 to 6 p.m.

Spaghetti-os with small meat balls, baked meat loaf and fried clam rolls will be only a few of the food items to greet students the first week of February in the cafeteria in the Van Buren Public School District. On tap for students in the elementary schools Monday will be soup, cheeseburgers on buns, french fries, icy bird and milk, with spaghetti-os with meat balls and cheese or tacos, bread and butter, fruit, pudding and milk slated for Tuesday.

Rounding out the week will be juice, grilled cheese sandwiches, potato chips, fruit cobbler and milk.

In the junior and senior high schools, the menu Monday will include soup, hamburgers on buns, tator tots, fruit jello, icy bird and milk, with doubleburgers as the alternate choice.

On Tuesday the cafeterias will be serving beef-o-roni, bread and butter, cake, fruit and milk, while coney island foot-long hot dogs will be the second selection.

Next Wednesday the lineup will include pizzaburgers on buns, french fried potatoes, fruit jello, pudding and milk, with doubleburgers with cheese slated for the alternate selection.

Next Thursday the menu will include baked meat loaf with mashed potatoes and gravy, bread and butter, vegetable, fruit, cobbler and milk,

Township grows up

It's official there are more than 17,000 people in Van Buren Township.

Township Clerk Patricia Cullin informed the township Board of Trustees that Michigan has certified Van Buren's mid-term census figure at 17,190 as tallied during a 2-month investigation last November.

The new tallying marks a nearly 31 percent increase in the township's official census since the federal count in 1970 was completed.

In 1970, the township showed a population of 13,162.

According to township officials, the upgrading of the federal census could mean more funds for the township through grants sent to the community, based on its population.

Speaker to mark pastor's 7th year

On Sunday, Pastor John F. Losen and family will begin their seventh year of ministry at the Bethany Baptist Church, located at 810 E. Huron River Drive, Belleville.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be Dr. Horace L. Fenton, Jr., general director of the Latin America Mission. He will be preaching at the 10 a.m., 11 a.m. and the 6 p.m. services.

Dr. Fenton is the author of "Myths about Missions" and "The Trouble With Barnacles". His insight, candor and incisive wit have made him popular as a Bible teacher and speaker at churches and conferences all over the world, a church spokesman said.

Trained at Wheaton College and Princeton Theological Seminary, Dr. Fenton served as a pastor and as a chaplain in the U.S. Air Force before going to the mission field.

During Dr. Fenton's overseas service, he taught classes at the Latin American Biblical Seminary in San Jose, Costa Rica. He also supervised a wide variety of ministries, such as a hospital, orphanage, publishing house, radio station, church and youth Twelve Year Effort Ends With Unprecedented Flavor In Low Tar Smoke.

New 'Enriched Flavor' discovery for 9 mg. tar MERIT achieves taste of cigarettes having 60% more tar.

The greatest challenge to cigarette makers in the last two decades has been how to make a low tar cigarette that wasn't "low" in taste.

It seemed impossible.
Until today.

After twelve long, hard, often frustrating years, Philip Morris has developed the way to do it.

The cigarette is called MERIT. It

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

delivers only 9 mg. of tar. One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today. Yet MERIT delivers astounding flavor.

If you're looking to become a low tar smoker, or don't particularly enjoy the taste of the low tar brand you smoke now—you'll be interested.

Low Tar, Good Taste: Filters Fall Short

Like most everyone else, we tried to design special "low tar, good taste" filters. Special filters that would somehow allow taste through but not tar.

Like others, we experienced the same general kind of results: the lower the tar, the lower the taste.

So for flavor, we concentrated on the business end of smoking. The tobacco end.

And decided if we wanted more flavor to come through, we'd just have to find a way to start with more.

Smoke Cracked:

'Enriched Flavor' Discovery

So we began an exhaustive research program in cigarette smoke analysis and the ingredients that actually comprise cigarette taste.

By using a very sensitive instrument called an Analytical Fractometer, we were able to "crack" cigarette smoke down into its various ingredients.

We found there are over 2000 separate ingredients in smoke.

Each was isolated and analyzed, one by one.

What we discovered was startling: there are ingredients in tobacco—"key" basic flavor units—that deliver taste way out-of-proportion to tar.

Breakthrough.

By fortifying tobacco with these natural flavor essentials, we're now able to pack flavor—extraordinary flavor—into a cigarette without the usual increase in tar.

The discovery is called 'Enriched Flavor.' It's extra flavor. Flavor that can't burn out, can't fade out, can't do anything but come through for you.

Taste-Tested By People Like You

9 mg. tar MERIT was taste-tested against five current leading low tar cigarette brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of smokers were involved. Smokers of filter cigarettes like yourself, all tested at home.*

The results were conclusive:

Even if the cigarette tested had 60% more tar, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported new 'Enriched Flavor' MERIT delivered more taste.

Repeat: delivered more taste.

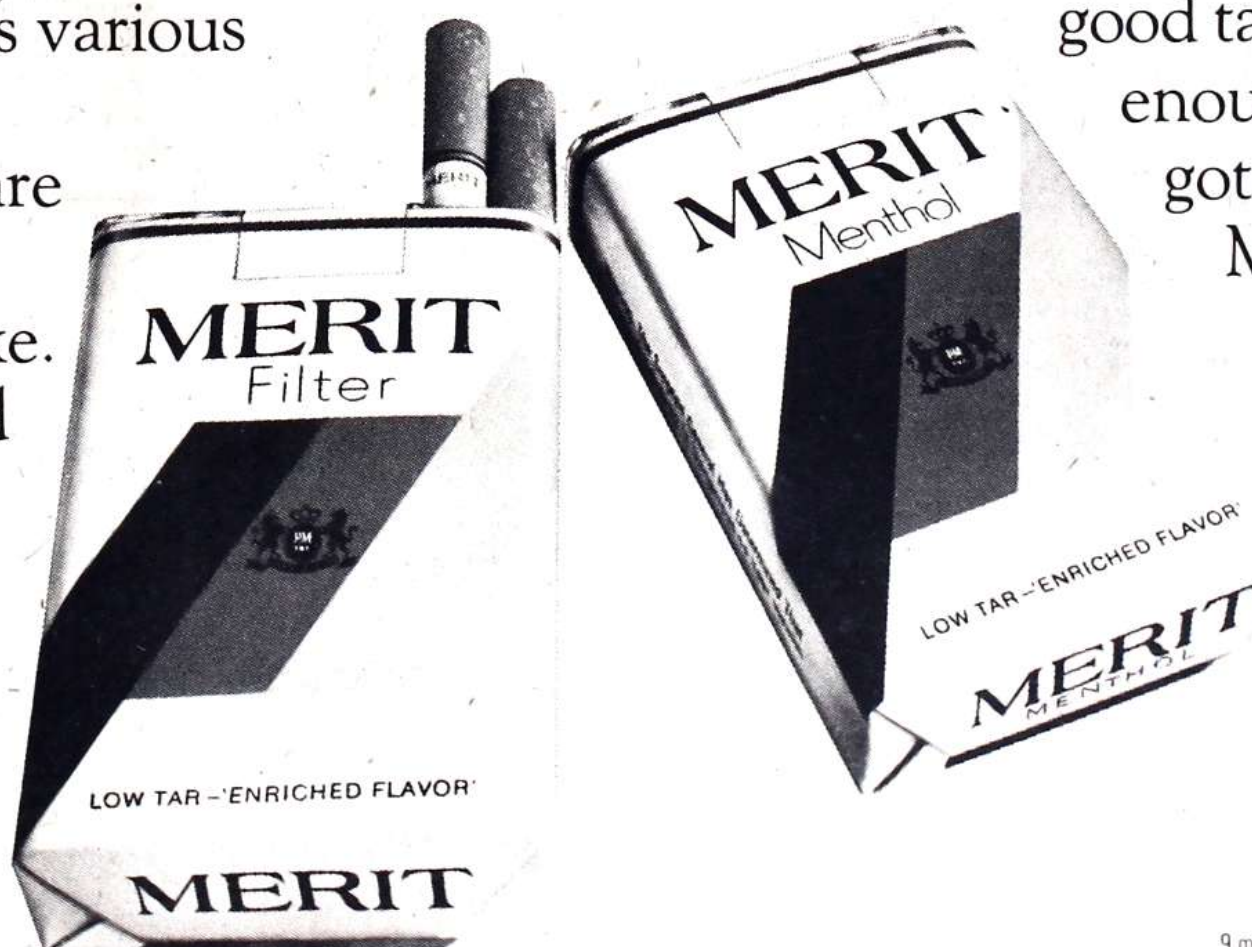

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, 9 mg. tar MERIT MENTHOL performed strongly, too, delivering as much—or more—taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now you've got the cigarette. MERIT.

Incredible smoking pleasure at only 9 mg. tar.

MTA meeting buoys quest

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Enterprise-Roman Staff

Back from the recent Michigan Township Association (MTA) convention, Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer is buoyed in his quest to offer improved services to Van Buren residents despite opposition from county and state agencies. During the meeting, the MTA representatives adopted two resolutions designed to offer elected township officials more orderly control over their communities' destinies. The first called upon the Michigan State Legislature to provide townships with their own share of state gas and weight tax revenues to provide road care. The second called for township elections to be for 4-year terms on a staggered basis to insure that at least one "skilled" administrator stays on staff at the township halls throughout the state after each election.

The first resolution is right up Gollwitzer's line of thought since it provides townships a shot at freedom from larger county government.

Under the present township set-up, counties throughout the state, through individual county road commissions, care for all roads in a township — something township representatives believe allows the county to skimp on minor arteries in their communities while caring for the major thoroughfares in more heavily-populated, and better vote-earning districts.

Under the MTA endorsed plan, townships would receive funds, to care for their own roads, and insure citizens of service on the same levels as city governments offer.

The second resolution drives at another problem Van Buren faces with elections every two years — the possibility of a "slate cleaning" in the township which has the potential of washing out even the good programs of a losing administration.

Under the MTA endorsed plan, townships would elect officials to 4-year terms, with no more than two of the "top" officials — supervisor, clerk and treasurer — facing the test of the voters in any one election.

"It would insure a continuity of an administration while providing some knowledgeable people to draw upon for advice by any new officials," Gollwitzer said.

Of the two resolutions, the second seems to be the most likely for adoption by the State Legislature, providing some political "bugs" are worked out.

Gollwitzer said a major stumbling block in adopting the 4-year term plan revolves around the terms of state representatives.

"If a township official has a 4-year term, and state representatives have 2-year terms, it insures township officials of worry free shots at state posts in their off election years, Gollwitzer added. "A supervisor in the second year of his 4-year term would feel safe in running for the state representative post, because he knew if he lost, he'd have a job waiting for him."

The supervisor said the problem probably will be solved, if the 4-year terms are adopted, by providing state representatives with 4-year terms in their districts.

State senators now are elected to staggered 4-year terms.

Complete study

Seven members of the Reserve Police Officers Unit of the Belleville Police Department recently completed a 30-week study program of the Southeast Michigan Police Reserve Training Council. The program involves 100 hours of class work in arrest procedures, traffic stops, emergency vehicle operations, bombs and explosives, narcotics and dangerous drugs, personal defense, court room procedures and search and seizure. Completing the course were Reserve Officers Roger Bernard (from left), Jack Chapman, Joseph Smendra, Kenneth Harden, Brian Cozzigalo and Robert Tator and Cpl. Bernard Well.

Romulus construction shows building boom

Romulus city officials have logged an increase in building activities in their community compared to the "slow" year of 1974.

The Romulus Building Department's annual report shows a $17.9 million building year during 1975 compared to a $14.6 million year in 1974. The report shows a total of 637 building permits being taken out in the city during 1975, up 48 from the 1974 totals.

Included in the totals is more than $4.2 million in industrial building construction on a total of 24 buildings. During the month of December, the building department reported construction at a cost of $662,000.

Included in the totals was one new single family home, valued at $36,600 and an industrial building, valued at $576,000.

During 1975, the department reported collections of $87,000 in building permit fees, down nearly $10,500 from the previous year.

During December, the collections for all permits totaled more than $8,000.

Ex-Jaycee heads share experiences

Eleven former leaders of the Romulus Jaycees have gathered for a "nostalgia night" at the Morgan Manor Apartment Complex.

The group, all former leaders of the Jaycees since its start in 1946, were invited to share discussions of their experiences and to hear Leonard Melnick, director of the Romulus Job and Health Help and Job Placement Center discuss his agency's operations.

Among those who attended were Hyle Carmichael, the charter president during 1946-47, Ron Hopson (1957-58), Joe Dolencic (1961-62), Gordon Silvey (1962-63 and 1969-70), Donald Tredor (1964-65), Garold Hoffer (1965-66), Jay Dick (1966-67), Harold Cannon (1967-68), Gary Johnson (1971-72), Lee Silvey (1973-73) and Phil McNett (1974-75).

Dem club holds vote

The Van Buren-Belleville Democratic Club will hold its annual election meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the VFW Hall on Bemis Road between Sumpter and Martinsville roads.

The election for the 1976 election year will top the agenda.

Part of Willow Run

Butler Aviation is one of the firms using Willow Run Airport as a basis of operation. The airport, currently controlled by the University of Michigan, has been the center of a contest between an authority, composed of representatives of Van Buren and Ypsilanti townships and the City of Ypsilanti, and the Wayne County Road Commission (WCRC). The joint authority won the first round in the battle, but must await a state ruling and a decision by the university board before knowing if it will run the aviation center. The WCRC has proposed converting the airport into a major air cargo center. — The Enterprise-Roman photo.

IRS helps residents with tax preparation

Western Wayne County taxpayers now can receive help in preparing their 1975 federal income tax returns Monday through Saturday at the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) office in Dearborn.

IRS personnel will be available to provide federal tax information from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday at the office, located at 22720 Michigan Avenue.

In addition, tax return assistance is available from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturdays. Saturday service hours include this Saturday, Feb. 7 and April 10.

There is no charge for the tax service.

Tax service also is starting this week at the Southland Center, according to R.L. Platte, IRS district director. Hours for the mall's walk-in tax center at 11 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday. The shopping center is located on Eureka Road east of Telegraph Road in Taylor.

Those persons unable to visit the IRS tax service locations, can call for federal tax information. Phone service is available from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. weekdays and from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturdays. For information call 444-5500.

Changes in this year's income tax forms included the "earned income credit" provisions, which will give many low-income families refund checks even though they had no taxes withheld from their pay, a higher standard deduction, a $30 credit per exemption, residence purchase credit, individual retirement plan and an increase in tax tables to cover incomes up to $15,000, Platte added.

Banker nets new position

Banker Leo M. Kalota has been promoted to vice-president at Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit, according to Paul E. Ellis, vice-president.

Kalota joined the bank in 1958 as assistant cashier in the Mortgage Department. He has gained experience in the Bank Properties, Trust and Marketing Departments before being assigned to the Romulus office where he currently is located.

Active in community affairs, Kalota serves as supervisor of Novi Township; secretary of the Romulus Building Authority; chairman of the SME Boy Scouts Huron District; treasurer of the Romulus Bicentennial and a member of the Romulus Kiwanis.

Snowfalls use salt supplies of road unit

Officials of the Wayne County Road Commission (WCRC) are hoping for a let-up in the almost regular snowfalls in the area which have helped deplete valuable road salt stores.

The WCRC reached a crisis point in its snow removal operations last week as salt reserves fell to such a critical level that full clearing of roadways had to be delayed in anticipation of a later snowstorm.

According to a spokesman for the agency, the snow removal operations Jan. 21 were done on a half-way basis in anticipation of a more massive snowfall later in the day.

Road crews spread salt once during the early morning hours Jan. 21 concentrating on expressways and intersections for fear they would not be with salt if a snowfall forecast for later in the afternoon came.

However, the snowfall didn't arrive, and work crews went out late in the morning to finish the snow removal job.

The spokesman said the WCRC had about 12,000 tons of salt on hand at the start of the snow but, because of the frequency of snowfalls recently, that store was too low for full removal.

However, salt shipments were being purchased by the county on a steady basis in an effort to build up stockpiles.

"What we need is a few days without any need for salt to get the stockpiles up to a safe level," the spokesman said. The spokesman added that road crews could not salt roads in anticipation of snowfall because precipitation falling on top of the salt would diminish its efficiency. The salt has to be spread on top of the snowfall to be crushed down into it by tires.

Snowfall at mid-winter already has surpassed the average total for a full winter in Michigan.

Although the largest snowfall was far below record levels, the spread of the precipitation over the number of days has required steady salting.

The WCRC spokesman added that Wayne County isn't the only agency suffering with the shortage.

Recently the State Department of Highways and Transportation called the road agency to ask if Wayne County had any of the state's salt on stockpile.

"We told them no," the spokesman said. "We used their salt first and now we're into our reserves."

The WCRC operates under contract with the highway department to salt freeways in Wayne County. State road crews were hoping to draw on Wayne County's reserves for out-county roadways which were suffering with a lack of salt.

Center picks board

A new Board of Directors has been selected to oversee the operations of the Romulus Help and Job Placement Center.

Selected president of the counseling center, funded by city, county, state and federal grants, was Earl L. Lamb.

Vice-president is Doug Vaught. Secretary of the organization is Jean Savage.

Three treasurers of the center's board are Jeannette Hunt, Charles Curley and Sharon Seabolt.

Also serving on the board are Marilyn Arnett, Vi Martin, Bill Byer Jr., Charles Franklin, Joe Cant, Donna Lee Zavitz, Beverly McAnally, Marilyn Vaught, Mr. and Mrs. Jason Lovette, Donald Melcher, and William Smith.

Ex-officio members of the board are Ronald Makino and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Baum.

Officials meet Ford

Rep. William D. Ford (D-15th District) joined with several Wayne County commissioners to discuss some of the problems facing the two units of government. Ford (seated at left) told the commissioners: "If all members of Congress had the same kind of relationship that we have with you, a lot of programs would pass much more easily than they now do." Conferring with Ford were Board of Commissioners Vice-Chairman John Barr of Dearborn Heights (from left, standing), Commissioners Royce Smith of Belleville and Edgar Harris of Taylor (seated) and Board Chairman Roscoe L. Bobo of Ecorse.

Cathey appointed to caravan post

Romulus resident Kenneth Cathey recently was named the state press-public relations director for the Michigan Council of Caravans, the Order of the Alhambra.

Cathey currently serves as public relations director for the Tagus Caravan No. 147 and as its historiographer.

According to Bart Vincenti, regional director of the group, Cathey was named to the state position because of his past performance in those two positions with the Tagus Caravan.

Cathey is known in Catholic fraternal circles and is a member of the Knights of Columbus, forming the new (Blessed) Fr. Maximilian M. Kolbe Council No. 6549. He was the first (charter) grand knight of the council, and was faithful navigator of the Bishop Joseph H. Albers General Assembly of Howell, Jackson and Lansing, Mich.

Vinenti, at the meeting of the Michigan council this month, also said every effort would be made toward the formation of new caravans, particularly one in the Belleville-New Boston - Romulus - Whittaker - Willis area.

Skiers, snowmobilers rev up to discover, enjoy February

When Old Man Winter puffs out his cheeks and blows in February, snow action in Michigan picks up a full head of steam. It's the month for skiers to schuss it up, for snowmobilers to "rev-up," ice fishermen to "shanty" on the lakes and for everyone to discover and enjoy the wonders of winter fun in Michigan, according to the Travel Bureau of the Michigan Department of Commerce.

Ice sculpture, "Sno Balls," torch-light parades and a variety of frosty high jinx "fun up" a generous list of winter carnivals and festivals on February's docket. Leading things off is the Michigan Tech Winter Carnival at Houghton-Hancock, Sunday through Feb. 7, winter favorite that always has a few surprises. Next week is the 51st Annual Winter Sports Festival at Grayling, Feb. 6-8, highlighted by such intriguing events as a Klondike Canoe Race, Mutt Race, Knitted Mitten Contest and Snowshoe Races.

Another of Michigan's winter classics, so to speak, is Perchville USA, Feb. 13-15, at East Tawas. This year marks the 26th version of this northeastern Michigan "happening," and among its entertaining events will be the annual Polar Bear Swim, bloopers ball games and demolition derbies on the ice and, the opportunity for anglers to do some serious ice fishing.

Other family fun fests, in order of appearance, include the Oscoda-AuSable Winter Carnival, McQuaig Park, Feb. 7 at AuSable; Hillsdale County Tip-Up Festival on Baw Beese Lake, Hillsdale, Feb. 7-8; a Winter Festival at Lake City, Feb. 7-8; the Lake Superior State College Winter Carnival at Sault Ste. Marie, Feb. 12-22; Grand Island Classic and Winter Carnival at Munising, Feb. 13-15; Tip-Up Carnival on Tip-Up Island, Marble Lake, Quincy, Feb. 14-15; and a Winter Carnival at Cedarville, Feb. 21-22.

It's pretty common knowledge that skiing and snowmobiling are Michigan's most popular winter recreational pursuits, and February has a lot to offer in both sports. The "really big race" in snowmobiling is Michigan's own 1-500 at Sault Ste. Marie. This year's running of the endurance classic is scheduled for Feb. 7. East Jordan will host the Twin 50 Snowmobile Race, Feb. 7-8, and the annual Enduro Snowmobile Races will be held at Houghton Lake, Feb. 15. Two other near "musts" for snowmobile enthusiasts are the World Snowmobile Games, Gogebic County Fairgrounds, Ironwood, Feb. 28-29 and the National Snowmobile Hill Club, Feb. 29, at Lake City.

On the ski slopes, Michigan offers two big events that rank at the top of at list in thrills and skill. First, the doubleheader Paul Bietila Memorial and National Ski-Jumping Tournament, Suicide Hill, Ishpeming, Feb. 23-24. Second, the International Ski Flying Meet at Cooper Peak near Ironwood, Feb. 26-29. Cooper Peak is the only ski flying hill in the western hemisphere, and this year top jumpers of the world will be attempting to

Morris retains position

A Romulus school board member for 29 years, Carl W. Morris, has been re-elected to the Wayne County Election Scheduling Committee for his third consecutive 1-year term.

Morris was re-appointed by unanimous vote of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners at a recent meeting after being nominated by Commissioner John Lesinski (D-DeARBORN).

Also unanimously re-elected to a third term on the Scheduling Committee was Rose M. Legg of Brownstown Township, also nominated by Lesinski.

A native of Romulus and the fourth generation of his family since 1847 to live in the area, Morris has been active in the 15th District Democratic Organization for many years. He continuously has been elected as a member of the Romulus Board of Education for 29 years and to the Board of Education of the Wayne County Intermediate School District for 19 years.

Morris also is a member of the Executive Committee of the Wayne County Association of School Board and the chairman of the Federal Legislation Committee of the Michigan Association of School Boards. He frequently is called to Washington and Lansing to comment on educational programs of state and national importance.

He also is a member of the Wayne County Criminal Justice Coordinating Council and one of two representatives from Romulus on the Peoples Community Hospital Authority. In Romulus, he is a member of the Bicentennial Commission and a former member of the Planning Commission, Board of Appeals and Parks and Recreation Commission. He also is a charter member of the Romulus Kiwanis Club.

break the hill mark of 482 feet set in 1975 by Jerry Martin.

A sport that provides plenty of enjoyment and excitement for spectator and competitor alike is sled dog racing. The Mid-West International Sled Dog Championship Races hit the trails at Kalkaska Feb. 7-8 and will be drawing canine contingents from a number of states including Alaska. Sled dog races also are scheduled at Mio, Feb. 21-22, and Brethren hosts the Mainstee County Sled Dog Races Feb. 28-29.

Ice skating events for February open with the State Outdoor Speed Skating Championships at Petoskey, Feb. 7-8, followed by the Thunder Bay Bicentennial Open Speed Skating Meet, Feb. 14-15 at Alpena; Indoor Short Track Speed Skating Championships at Flint, Feb. 21; Indoor Short Track Championships, Feb. 22, at Midland; and the Indoor Short Track Speed Skating Classics at Detroit, Feb. 28-29.

Then there's the Polar Ice Cap Golf Tournament played on the "iced over" fairway of Spring Lake at Grand Haven, Feb. 21.

Indoors, you can enjoy some dazzling displays of dexterity during the Virginia Slims Tennis Tournament, Cobo Hall, Detroit, Feb. 16-22. Or, take a nostalgic trip into the past at the World Wide Antique Show-Sale at Lansing's Civic Center, Feb. 27-29.

Some of the cultural experiences to enjoy in February include: A Community Concert with the Addiss and Crofut Folk Singers, Community College, Muskegon, Feb. 4; Mourning Becomes Electra, presented by Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, Feb. 6-15; and the Greenfield Village Players presentation of, "The White House," Henry Ford Museum Theater, Feb. 29.

Representative raps critical report

An official court representative has labeled a critical report, filed in court by a lawyer for inmates at the Wayne County Jail, as a "sanctimonious indictment," containing "flaws, falsehoods and mistakes" about living conditions at the jail.

Phillip M. Jackson, a jail monitor for a 3-judge Circuit Court panel, filed his critique of the layers report with the panel and recommended that the panel order the attorney to "present written complaints for each individual inmate" to document the charges.

Jackson filed a counter-report with the panel, stating that he was present during a 12-hour investigation of jail conditions by attorney Neal Bush and his 15 associates, and that the group method of interviewing prisoners was not "particularly conducive to detailed, accurate, private information-gathering."

Jackson, who is a certified social worker, said of the 47 complaints about bad medical attention, he saw medical evidence in 27 cases which refutes the complaint. In only four cases could he find evidence which indicated the inmates had a justified complaint.

Bush is the attorney in a 5-year-old civil suit against Sheriff William Lucas, Jail Administrator Frank Wilerson, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners and the Board of Auditors brought by inmates who have complained about crowded conditions, inadequate medical care, ragged clothing and bedding, overflowing toilets and dirty cellblocks.

"The content and temperament of Bush's letter (report) of Dec. 24 is cause for concern. We all know that some conditions in the jail are undesirable, some are bad, and some are even deplorable, but the sanctimonious indictment of William Lucas and Frank Wilerson seems a bit much," Jackson said.

Belleville cagers eye 2nd place

Belleville has lost only two basketball games this season and Coach Tom Niemi's Tigers can even up one score Friday night.

That's when Trenton, presently seated in second place in the Suburban 8 Conference, comes to town.

"Our boys know the importance of this game," Niemi said. "We need the win which will enable us to get a share of second and also keep us alive in the title race."

A tired Belleville contingent, which played three games in five days last week, survived two close calls as it won a cliffhanger from league rival, Allen Park, 56-55, and took a thriller in double overtime from Adrian, 77-73.

And strange things do happen in basketball. Just ask Allen Park's Greg Bondi. Bondi had a chance to give the Jaguars the victory but missed the opportunity.

With one second left, the Allen Park cager was awarded two free throws. He missed the first and Allen Park's only hope was a tapin on a second shot.

And what happens? Bondi accidentally makes the second shot.

With one second left, Belleville threw the ball downcourt as the time ran out.

Sports

Belleville got off to a cold start. The Tigers trailed 18-10 and played catch-up most of the night.

Allen Park held a 6-5 scoring edge over the Tigers in the third period, taking a 38-36 lead into the last frame. Belleville's Tim Gratham sank a pair of free throws that gave the Tigers the winning margin.

Dennis Easley, Belleville's leading scorer, pumped in 24 points before fouling out in the last second and Narvell Turner contributed 21.

Earlier in the week, Adrian "played giveaway" as it blew a three point lead in the last 10 seconds to force the game into overtime.

Easley realized a 3-point play to tie the game at 63-all. Then, in the first overtime, Adrian held a 69-67 edge with 18 seconds to go and lost the ball on a corner shot.

Kevin Barnes nailed the rebound and flipped the ball over to Lance McArthur who sank the equalizer.

In the second overtime, Harold Dennis hit four of the eight Belleville points, including the basket that put Belleville ahead for good.

Belleville ripped off the first six points in the final overtime, and didn't do anything foolish as its nonleague rival.

Easley's 22 points led all scorers. Three other Belleville cagers counted double figures. Turner drilled 19 points, James Thompson counted 12 and Dennis finished with 12.

Chuck Schwartz had 21 for Adrian. Teammates Glenn Butler and Joe Jenkins contributed 19 and 17, respectively.

Friday's results
Belleville 56, Allen Park 55; Plymouth Salem 76, Dearborn 52; Redford Union 55, Livonia Bentley 49; Trenton 80, Edsel Ford 53.

Friday, Feb. 13

To some, Friday, the 13th, is a bad omen. But, to Belleville High Coach Tom Niemi and his cagers, it is a day of opportunity. That's when the Tigers will meet third-ranked Class A and presently undefeated Suburban 8 Conference leader, Plymouth Salem in a rematch. Salem drew first blood, winning a 70-65 dual (above). Meanwhile, Belleville had a date with Trenton, the only other team to beat the Tigers, Friday night. Niemi's minions will have the home court advantage the second time around.

Allen Park jolts Tiger grapplers

With the memory of a 26-25 loss of a year ago haunting them, Allen Park invaded Belleville and made off with a 28-24 Suburban 8 Conference wrestling victory.

And that setback by Belleville could cost the Tigers a shot at the conference title.

"I felt we had a shot at the title," said Coach Gerald Malecek whose Tigers have a 3-2 league record. "But this defeat puts us on the spot."

"We still have Trenton and Plymouth Salem ahead of us and they're as tough as any team around. We had our chances against Allen Park, but they wanted the victory more than we did apparently."

Belleville competed in the 8-team Chelsea Invitational and finished third. The Tigers amassed 78½ points, trailing Dundee (129½) and Lake Fenton (82) in the standings.

Howell was fourth with 77½ points, followed by Albion (73½), Tecumseh (52), Jackson Northwest (45) and Chelsea (45).

Greg Johnson, Belleville's 105 pound senior, picked up a gold medal as he defeated Dundee's "Lucky" McLaughlin. Johnson's teammate Randy Slocum also emerged a winner in the 185-pound class, beating Fenton's Neal Masse on a 1-0 decision for the title.

Belleville had three third places with Ed Paris (98), Mike Mlsna (119) and heavyweight Bob Cook.

"I felt we were good enough to finish second," Malecek pointed out. "We had some letdowns that cost us."

In another "toughie," Belleville emerged atop of a 31-24 score with area rival, Romulus, earlier in the week.

Aloysius fields 1st cage team

Though they may not win a league championship, St. Aloysius of Romulus is certain to have a first this season.

For the first time in its 25 year history, St. Aloysius is fielding a 7th & 8th grade basketball team. The team plays its games at 7:30 p.m. at Romulus Senior High Wednesday nights.

On Feb. 4th, St. Al's will take on Wyandotte Catholic for its next game.

Romulus hosts mat invitational

Wayne Memorial, the defending Class A state champ, is favored to win the second annual Romulus High Wrestling Invitational.

The meet has lured a field of seven teams including Clawson, Fenton, Clintondale, Mt. Clemens, Adrian and the host, Romulus.

Five of the seven teams are among the top in their respective classes in the state.

Competition will begin at noon Saturday and continue until 12 weight classes and a team champ is crowned. There will be medals for first, second and third place finishers, a most pins award and trophies to the champ and runner-up.

Admission is 50 cents and $1 for students and adults respectively for the preliminaries. Finals will cost 50 cents more.

Meanwhile, the Michigan High School Athletic Association this week released the school assignments for Feb. 14's district "wrestle-downs."

Belleville will head for Ypsilanti where the Tigers will meet the likes of Wayne Memorial and Westland John Glenn in a 23-team district.

Romulus travels to Temperance Bedford, a team most say is the heir-apparent to Wayne Memorial state Class A throne.

Romulus finished a disappointing 15th at the prestigious Detroit Catholic Central Invitational over the weekend. Heavyweight Ed Abbott placed fourth for Coach Vern Logan's Eagles.

Temperance Bedford won the title, (106 points) nipping Westland John Glenn which finished second with 105½ points. Wayne, the defending Class A state champ, suffered its first setback of the season, and wound up in seventh place.

Belleville, Cherry Hill are 'teams to beat'

With the Western Wayne Swimming & Diving Invitational just a couple of weeks away, the teams to beat, according to this week's Area Swim Listing, are Belleville and Cherry Hill.

Though Belleville defeated Cherry Hill in an head-on dual meet earlier in the season, Coach Jerry Pawloski's Spartans have been improving.

One reason is Rick Kogelschatz who turned in a 54.7 to top the field in the 100-yard butterfly. Rick's time is among — if not the best — in Class B state ratings this season.

Here is this week's listings, as compiled by Coach Pawloski. To get a swimmer's performance on the list, coaches may contact Pawloski at Cherry Hill High (PA 2-5900) or at home 941-4399.

Romulus hockey notes

The Romulus Flyers left little doubt in anyone's mind which is the better team when they met Flat Rock last week.

The Flyers, coached by Rick Wood, Greg Glaesmer and Wayne Rodd crushed their rivals 10-0. Matt Oddy and Lenny Webb scored hat tricks while Steve Thornsberry earned the role as playmaker.

In other action, Romulus Mastercraft Squirts, coached by Jim Doran and John Domas, have compiled a 13-2-2 record, the best in the Squirt Division.

Doug Hendricks, and Harley Helton are among the team's leading scorers. Both have carded hat tricks this season. Goalie Mike Wood chalked up a shutout in his team's 5-0 triumph over Flat Rock II.

Romulus's Dino Pizza, coached by Jeny Szveda and Joe Genovese destroyed Flat Rock I, 8-2 to stretch its winning streak to six games.

Jimmy Sedlacek scored four goals for his second hat trick of the season while Tony Genovese collected three assists.

If you use a vacuum cleaner and a whisk broom regularly before dirt has a chance to get embedded — once every week or so, for example, you may be able to put off washing the seats and floor coverings for a long time. When the upholstery does begin to look dull and grimy, pick out a few clean face cloths you are ready to throw away, mix a bucket of warm water, apply suds sparingly and rub gently without letting them soak through the upholstery. Rinse by wiping with clear water, and then open the car doors and windows to let the interior dry.

Keep your car clean with accessories and cleaning materials from KOSIN'S AUTO PARTS, 26831 Michigan Ave., Inkster. We have a complete inventory of parts and accessories for both foreign and domestic cars. Our expert staff gives fast, friendly counter service, as well as competent advice on the parts and tools you need for your particular car. Stop in for mufflers, batteries, fan belts, fuel pumps — anything you need to keep your car running at its best. We are open daily from 8 A.M. until 8 P.M., and on Saturdays until 5 P.M.

WCRC will hear complaints

Officials of the Wayne County Road Commission (WCRC) have indicated they would be willing to discuss complaints by local school officials about problems which may come from operations at Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus.

The road and transportation agency officials said they never have been approached on a complaint by Romulus Community School District officials that buildings near the airport become useless as educational facilities during aircraft overflights. "While we're not going to solicit complaints, we will listen, if told of complaints, and act on them, if some action to correct them is warranted," said Mitchell Zolik, deputy managing director for the road agency. "While we've read accounts in newspapers about the complaints of school officials, we've never sat down with those officials to discuss them."

Zolik added that arrangements had been made to meet on a somewhat regular basis with city and school officials shortly after former Romulus Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael said it was

"tough to have a dialogue" with the WCRC.

"The arrangement had been made to meet with the school, city and Chamber of Commerce officials on airport affairs," Zolik said. "But nothing came of it."

Within a year of the Carmichael statement, he was replaced in office by the voters and the Chamber of Commerce ceased to function as a viable business lobby in the community.

"The absence of any indication there may be a problem with overflights should preclude complaints about those problems," said Robert Larson, director of transportation for the WCRC. "You always have to remember that with the problems which may come from the airport, the area surrounding it always develops because of that airport."

"It's to the benefit of city and school taxpayers when development comes from the airport."

Thomas P. O'Rourke, managing director of the WCRC said: "We're always willing to respond to the people of a community, if contacted."

Sumpter Township Planning Commission

IT'S A DOGGONE LIFE FOR CANINES

Once a year Romulus dogs find themselves on the sharp end of a needle. That time has come again to have dogs vaccinated and licensed. The license for unsexed dog is $1.50 and $5.00 for a male or female dog, providing the license is obtained on or before March 1, 1976, licenses purchased after that date will include a penalty of $1.50.

According to city ordinance no person owning or harboring any dog older than four months can permit the dog to run at large at any time. Any dog four months or older kept in the city of Romulus five (5) days or longer must be licensed.

This year, as in past years, the city will be offering a dual service. For your convenience, a veterinarian has been obtained and will be at the dog pound in the fire station at Goddard and Wayne Roads. This service will be available on Saturday February 14, 1976, February 21, and February 28, 1976, from 3 to 5 p.m.

When making application for the license, the owner must present proof of vaccination of dogs for rabies shall be within the year preceding the date of application and in a manner approved by the board of health for the County of Wayne. Such vaccination shall be effective for the full term of the license. The reason for vaccinating and licensing is to curb rabies, a virus infection transmitted by the bite of a diseased animal.

Any animal with rabies will die. Any human who develops rabies will die. If any animal who has bitten a person should escape and not be found or killed in such a way that its brain is destroyed, preventive treatment for rabies must be given to that person. Treatment means twenty-one (21) daily injections against rabies.

Director John Prowse, of the Romulus animal shelter, states that a dog census will be taken after March 1, 1976, and citizens with unlicensed dogs or dogs running at large will be faced with a court appearance.

This ordinance will be fully enforced. John B. Lewkowicz, Treasurer City of Romulus January 28, 1976
